Executive Summary

The purpose of this report is to provide a comprehensive overview of the current state of the Swiss development cooperation sector. It focuses on the strategic framework, the role of the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation (SDC), and the impact of the 2020-2024 strategy. The report also discusses the challenges and opportunities facing the sector and provides recommendations for future actions.

1. Introduction

The Swiss development cooperation sector has a long and distinguished history. It is based on the principle of human rights and the goal of sustainable development. The sector has evolved over time, adapting to changing global challenges and opportunities. The 2020-2024 strategy marks a new phase in the sector's development, emphasizing a more integrated and results-oriented approach.

2. Strategic Framework

The strategic framework of the Swiss development cooperation sector is defined by the 2020-2024 strategy. This strategy sets the overall direction and priorities for the sector. It is based on the Swiss development cooperation strategy 2020-2024, which outlines the sector's vision, mission, and strategic objectives.

3. Role of the SDC

The Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation (SDC) is the central body responsible for the implementation of the Swiss development cooperation strategy. It coordinates the efforts of the Swiss government and the Swiss private sector. The SDC also provides technical assistance and financial support to partner countries.

4. Impact of the 2020-2024 Strategy

The 2020-2024 strategy has had a significant impact on the Swiss development cooperation sector. It has led to a more integrated and results-oriented approach. The strategy has also led to a focus on the most vulnerable and in need of assistance.

5. Challenges and Opportunities

The Swiss development cooperation sector faces several challenges and opportunities. The challenges include the need to address the root causes of poverty and inequality, the need to build resilience in partner countries, and the need to address the impact of climate change. The opportunities include the potential to promote sustainable economic growth, to build stronger partnerships with partner countries, and to address the needs of the most vulnerable.

6. Recommendations

The following recommendations are based on the findings of this report. They aim to address the challenges and opportunities facing the sector and to ensure the continued success of the Swiss development cooperation sector. The recommendations include the need to strengthen the strategic framework, to improve the coordination of efforts, and to focus on the most vulnerable.

7. Conclusion

The Swiss development cooperation sector has a bright future. By continuing to work together and by focusing on the most vulnerable, we can make a significant contribution to the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). The 2020-2024 strategy provides the framework for this work, and it is our hope that it will be fully implemented and that it will lead to a more just and sustainable world.
